

CITY COMMISSIONER ELECTION TOMORROW

Krewe Of Chicapoula Lead In Colorful Mardi Gras Parade Here

GERALD FAYRE, JR., AND ROSE ANN KINGSTON

FOURTEEN FLOATS DEPART STARS

Mardi Gras Day in Bay St. Louis was the merriest ever despite threatening skies all day and small showers right at parade time. Undaunted, however, the Krewe of Chicapoula led fourteen floats and some forty-odd horsemen through the streets, which teemed with maskers and spectators, all eager to catch a trinket from the floats.

His Royal Highness, Gerald Fayre, Jr., led the parade which had as its theme "State Bids and Flowers". King Gerald, halted the parade at the Courthouse where he bestowed his lovely queen, Miss Rose Ann Kingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kingston.

City and County officials, along with the American Legion color guard, cub scouts, the Bay High band preceded the colorful floats.

The first, second and third grades chose Maryland. Pretty little faces peeked from Sunflower headresses. Sunflowers covered the sides and were used extravagantly against the green background.

Magnolias were featured by the fourth grade and exceptional grade of Bay High depicting Mississippi. Lovely white flowers flowed from the back of the float.

North Carolina was selected by the Taylor School. Here the beautiful rose was in much evidence.

The Evangeline country of Louisiana with its poplars, moss, pine trees and even a snake was used by the fifth and sixth grades of Bay High.

Christ Episcopal Day School's float had oil derricks, cowboys and huge yellow roses with a recording of "Yellow Rose of Texas" enlivening the theme.

Each blossom of Georgia made by the Future Farmers of America drew much applause along the route.

Mrs. George S. Horton's float with the Western theme of Oklahoma came along next.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars float, with a Davy Crockett atmosphere of coonskin caps and long rifles, hanging moss and trees, delighted everyone.

Breathtaking beautiful purple Iris by Tennessee covered the float entered jointly by the American Legion and the Auxiliary American Legion and its Auxiliary.

The District of Columbia was selected by the Senior Class of Bay High.

Mrs. Henry Osoinach chose Wyoming and Jan Osoinach rode as a little queen.

Superior Supply took the cotton fields of Virginia along the route.

Chuck Breath drove the clever little "Road Runner" of New Mexico.

Two truckloads of Valentines from Waveland dressed alike in red costumes followed this.

The parade ended at the High School where the court presentation began. The gymnasium was elaborately decorated with pine boughs and the red hearts of Valentine's Day. The heart shaped thrones were centered between candelabra holding lighted candles.

The king entered to much applause and took his place on the throne where he awaited the royal dukes and their maids. His highness wore a suit of red satin trimmed in gold bands. His mantle of cloth of gold was bordered in white and he wore a crown of gold and held a gold scepter.

The maids wore white formal gowns with red hearts along the bottom. They carried old fashioned heart-shaped bouquets of red roses.

The dukes wore red suits similar to that of the king.

The beautiful queen, Miss Kingston, gown in white tulle made very bouffant. Red hearts decorated this stunning gown. Her mantle was of red velvet with a white border. She wore a crown of rhinestones and carried a silver scepter topped with a lovely white orchid.

After the took her place, members of Mrs. Dan Russell's dancing class presented several dancing numbers.

Maids and dukes were Freda Pernicaro, Barry Stevens, Rosemary Savater, Tommy Johnson, Courtney Coward, Bill Watts, Elizabeth Rauxet, Carl Oliver, Barbara Tartavouille, Sam Montgomery, Sheila Dillman, Melvin Burge, Anne Morreale, Henry Steen, Bobbie Joe Walters, Dennis Tartavouille, Judy Poolson, Floyd Christy, Faye Duke, Kenneth Ladner.

Parr Is Rotary Speaker Wed.

Walter Parr of Fort Worth, Texas and Memphis, Tennessee, who is Agricultural Consultant for the American-Korean Foundation, was the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon Wednesday.

Mr. Parr, who has been very active in 4-H Club Work and is one of the leaders in the rebuilding of the Republic of Korea, sponsored a ship loaded with live stock and tools to Korea during June, 1955.

Aboard the ship with Mr. Parr were fourteen 4-H Club boys from eight southern and southwestern states. Mr. Parr stated that these 4-H boys have given a three year agricultural program for the people of Korea and that he found the people of Korea hungry for tools and materials with which to work and were not looking for gifts from any government. He said it was the program of Mr. Parr and his associates to gather live stock, tools and other needed articles for Korea from eight southern and southwestern states to head another ship to Korea.

The ship, which will be named "Friendship for Korea 4-H Clubs" will be loaded in three ports, Mobile, Alabama, Lake Charles, Louisiana and Galveston, Texas.

Mr. Parr stated that more than two million people were destroyed and 500,000 lost their homes and four million left Korea to go behind the Iron Curtain.

He stated that the Koreans are a worthy people and that the southern part of Korea is Christian and the northern part Atheist.

"To the Koreans, there was one ideology which caused the Korean conflict," Mr. Parr said "and that was the fight for Christianity—something that communism couldn't fight."

"The most effective weapon Christian people, including the people of the United States, can use to fight communism in Korea is a tool, a pig, a goat or the like which can mold friendship for a great little republic," he continued.

Mr. Parr was introduced by Mrs. Charles Johnson. A number of other visitors were present at the Rotary luncheon.

POLLS TO OPEN AT 7 A. M. AT TWO CITY BOXES

Tomorrow, Saturday the 18th, the qualified electors of the City of Bay St. Louis will go to the polls to vote for a City Commissioner to fill the unexpired term of Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., who resigned on December 31st to be sworn in as Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County.

There are five candidates who are seeking the office. They are: Warren Traub, present Superintendent of the City Gas Division; George Heitzmann, present assistant tax-assessor in the county; Roland Dillmann, sheet metal contractor; T. A. Heitzmann and Curtis Fayre.

Should any candidate fail to receive a majority of the votes cast tomorrow, then a run-off will be held two weeks later on Saturday, March 3rd, between the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes tomorrow.

The unexpired term of the office to which each candidate aspires is until July, 1957.

The two City voting places, North and South Bay boxes, will open at 7 A. M. and will close at 6 P. M. As usual, North Bay voters will vote in the office of Dr. Shipp, Health officer, on the north side of the City Hall, the South Bay voters will vote in the gas and tax collector's office at the City Hall, located on the ground floor.

To the public this has been an unusually quiet campaign, with very little fanfare and discussion of issues or platforms. Maybe the public is tired of campaigning, since it was just called on recently to vote for officials from Government down to constable. This is an important office, and regardless of the seeming docile attitude the voter should turn out tomorrow and vote.

Phillips Petroleum Successful Bidder

The Board of Supervisors opened sealed bids, at its meeting last Monday from four different individuals or companies bidding on the lease rights to different sixteen Section lands in this county.

Section Sixteen in Township 9 South Range 15 West was the main tract of land in which bidding ran high. This was due to the fact that the Cuevas production well is located rather close to this section.

The bid accepted by the Board was one submitted by Phillips Petroleum Co. The offer was a $32,000,000 bonus for the first year and in case of production, the company would give the County a one-fourth of eight-eighths acre with a maximum of one-half a million dollars on the over-ride feature. The term of the lease is 3 years.

Religious services were held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Marksville and interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Mrs. Spotorno was well known in Bay St. Louis where she visited often and there are many who deeply regret her death.

Eugene Roland Dillmann

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lozano Rule As Carnival King And Queen

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES LOZANO

The gymnasium of St. Joseph's Academy was transformed into an ethereal setting on Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lozano ruled the 23rd Annual Carnival Ball.

Pink and white clouds against a blue sky formed the background of the stage. A silver stairway ascended to the ceiling on one side. The throne of silver stood on the other. Potted pink perfection carnations were placed at intervals around the sides of the gym, and marked the royal box. Here, to was a mural of clouds.

His royal highness entered the ballroom first and took his place on the stage where he awaited the entourage of maids and dukes. The ladies of the court wore white ball gowns and carried bouquets of red roses accented with white tulle and silver ribbon. The men of the court like the King were in formal evening clothes.

Members of the court were: Mrs. Beatrice Smith, Miss Geraldine Martin, Mrs. Patrick Murphy, Mrs. Gary E. Taylor, Mrs. Kenneth W. Pepperdine, Mrs. Roy Wiggins, Mrs. James O. Normand, Mrs. David McDonald, Mrs. Earl Buckley, Mrs. Rosalind Cooper, Mrs. A. N. Peirce III, Mrs. Fred L. Herlihy, Mrs. Paul Hillery, Mrs. Henry Osoinach, Mrs. Charles Gottschalk, Mrs. W. Lagarde, Mrs. Leroy McFarland, Mrs. T. A. Quigley, Mrs. Shirley Sewell, Mrs. Fred Wagner, Mrs. Otto J. Mollere, Mrs. R. H. Stiefel, Mrs. Alden Mauffray, Mrs. John L. Griffin and dukes were Kenneth W. Pepperdine, Dr. Adrian A. Hava, Robert Geiger, Dr. John L. Griffin, James O. Normand, David McDonald, Henry Osoinach, A. N. Peirce, III, Fred Herlihy, Howard LeTissier, Dr. Leroy McFarland, R. H. Steffel, Charles Gottschalk, Robert Hamilton, Frank W. Lagarde, Gary E. Taylor, Fred Wagner, Dr. Charles Wascom, Dr. T. A. Quigley, Dr. Otto J. Mollere, Patrick Murphy, T. T. Robin Leo Seal, Jr., Alden Mauffray.

Last year's rulers, Mrs. Lily Ann Reuhl and Sam Fayre, entered next and took their places on the stage. Mrs. Reuhl wore the beautiful gown she wore last year as queen, sea-foam green tulle made strapples and very full skirted. The entire gown was liberally sprinkled with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

With a fanfare of trumpets, the gracious queen entered and met her king on the stage where they were enthroned. Mrs. Lozano, a striking brunette, wore a white imported chantilly lace gown made on very simple but beautiful line and unadorned. The mantle of cloth of gold was attached to a standing medallion collar of rhinestones. Bands of gold sequins criss-crossed the mantle and here and there were stunning arrangements of pink velvet roses and hyacinths. It was bordered in white ermine with little ermine tails placed along the edges and lined in heavy pink satin. A glittering crown of rhinestones, a rhinestone necklace, and pendant earrings of rhinestones made up the regal jewels. Mrs. Lozano carried a large bouquet of white orchids which was replaced later by a beautiful scepter of silver and rhinestones.

When the King and Queen were enthroned, the tableau to entertain their majesties and the court began. In keeping with the heavenly theme was the theme of "The Littlest Lost Angel," which was narrated by Cynthia Brown. Jo Mary Artigue played the part of the little angel with Vallon Seuzeau, a little Dionis as the tiny cherub attendants. Betty McCollister led the tiny cherubs who were Ann Morlan, Jeanne Jones, Hugh Engeshow, May Gottschalk, Jeanne McCollister and Toni Breazeale. Pupils of Mrs. Dan Russell presented several dances which were "Angel Friends" with Sheila Heitzmann, Marsha Blaize, Cheryl Ducomb, Nancy Gray, Carolyn Buckley and Patsy Fayre. "Swingin on a Star" was danced by Elaine Necaise, Erin Heitzmann, Sharon Griffin, Fahy di Benedetto, Mike Reimke Rhonda Roland, Becky Prevou, Judy Compretta, Roxanne Reynolds, Mary Ann Becker, Suzette Brown, Gail Koch, Johnny Green and Sue Porter. A Stardust Ballet featured a duet by Nita Kay Erwin and Donna Wiggins assisted by Dale Russell, Linda Hamilton, Nina Roland, Ann Gottschalk, Kathleen Mooney, Brenda Frick Pat Sellars and Sharon Piazza.

When the tableau ended the King and Queen led the members of the court around the ballroom in a grand march.

Dr. J. A. Evans served as general chairman of the event and assisted by the floor committee with Ed Carrere as honorary chairman; Dan Russell as chairman; Walter Gex, Dr. H. A. Eldredge, Leo Seal, Sr., Dr. E. L. Irwin E. J. Arce-neaux, H. W. LeTissier, E. N. Brigrac, N. L. Carter, Rene de Montluzin Jr., Roger Boh E. N. Spence and Robert Camors, committee members.

The ball was very well attended and the enthusiastic applause of the spectators proved the success of this annual affair.

At midnight at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, the royal couple entertained the court and several hundred guests at a supper party. The Yacht Club was decorated in Carnival colors. Large arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums backed with silvered palmets were placed on the columns in the main lounge.

The queen's table was covered with an ivory satin cloth caught up on one side with a bouquet of mums in yellow, combined with purple, green and yellow satin ribbon.

Dancing was enjoyed by the guests with music furnished by Kramer's orchestra.

Delinquent Parents?

It is most alarming to the citizens of our county and community that there has been so much teen-age and juvenile delinquency being evidenced by number of robberies, burglaries and other crimes and misdemeanors committed by teen-age boys within the last six months.

As reported in the papers during the past few months, it is to be noted that about 90 per cent of the crimes committed in our community have been committed by boys under nineteen years of age. The officers of the county and of Bay St. Louis and Waveland have been faster than ever before investigating and routing out these youngsters, some of whom are first offenders, and some of whom are second offenders.

It is difficult to say the reason for such a wave of teen-age crime, and there could be a number of things to precipitate such, but one thing is certain, that such action of a child can so often be traced to the home—the parents of the child, and the environment of the child. From broken homes and families, a number of prospective criminals begin a career of crime.

One thing is characteristic about juvenile delinquency and teen-age crimes: they start with petty crimes, such as pilfering and burglaries, and they are usually from two to four youngsters involved—a young group to tender-foot out for a thrill. The older criminal usually travels alone, and it is usually for the kill.

In our book, parents are mostly responsible for their young, and under the proper supervision of the parents, ninety per cent of the teen-age crime would never be committed. When a young one goes astray, the parent is the first to blame the wrong on the bad influence of some other boy, not recognizing that he has neglected the best welfare of his own boy. It is quite easy for an interested parent to find out the kind of company his son is keeping before it is too late. Some parents so often leave or send their youngsters to a teen-age club, or elsewhere to get rid of them for an evening so the parents can go out and get drunk and have an evening of fun. They are later surprised to learn that a child imitates father and mother and sees no wrong, and so goes the story.

We sometimes think that the best way to curb teen-age and juvenile crime would be to charge the parents, and try them, as well as the offspring.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q—A friend of mine is drawing extra pension payments because he needs constant nursing care. Would his extra pay be stopped if a member of his family provided this care rather than someone he hired for the purpose?

A—The extra payments would not be stopped if he receives nursing care from a member of his family.

Q—I am going to college under the Korean GI Bill. I want to change a couple of my courses without changing my goal. Would these changes be considered as my one-and-only change of program?

A—They would not be considered a change of program so long as they do not involve (1) material loss of credits or (2) an extension of the time originally planned for completing your program.

Q—I have been told that VA will waive my GI insurance premiums because I have been totally and permanently disabled for six months. I also was advised to keep on paying my premiums in the meantime, until VA informs me that I may stop. Will those premiums be refunded to me?

A—Yes. Premiums covering the period when the waiver is effective will be refunded to you.

Q—Is there a deadline for which disabled Korea veterans must start vocational rehabilitation training?

A—There is no starting deadline for disabled Korea veterans. However, they must begin in time to finish before the completion deadline. For veterans discharged before Aug. 20, 1954, this date is August 20, 1955. For those discharged after August 20, 1954, it is January 31, 1956, or nine years after separation, whichever is earlier. In some instances, these deadlines may be extended.

Dr. Harold Keefe To Direct Little Theatre Play

By VICKI-LENNOX HILL

An enthusiastic response in an invitation for try-outs for the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's first opus of the 1956 season. The play, "Light Up the Sky" by Moss Hart, is one of the kind that the Bay Patrons enjoy most. It is being directed by Dr. Harold Keefe and casting is in progress. In the selection for players are such favorites as Mary Lynn Raymond Ansley, whose quiet beauty and talent have been enjoyed many times before Bay audiences. Ezelda Ling, another very talented actress in our group; Betty Farrington, a newcomer to Bay St. Louis as well as to the theatre; Myrtle Stiefel, who adds spice and interest to any presentation with her brilliant interpretations. Among the men chosen are Lester Walters; Phillip Allison; Robert Leffler; Lucian Raymond and several others.

The play promises to be a highly entertaining one, not only to our patrons but to the participants as well. It is the sort of story that is infectious in its rollicking good humor and clever, down-to-earth dialogue. It takes one behind the scenes, as it were, with the daily doings of a group of theatrical people. If you have ever been curious about how show people live and breathe—this is it!

The response to our appeal for subscriptions has been most gratifying and we are grateful to those of our members who have sent in their dues, however, there are still many whom we expect to hear from within a short period. The theatre officials have a wonderful list of prospective plays planned for the season, but it is a little difficult to make specific arrangements until all our receipts are recorded. Remember, that a seasonal subscription is economy since you receive the benefit of four major plays as well as two or three workshop performances this year. Door receipts are $1.50 per play. We are interested in having new residents to our area join us. If you will call Erle Kirkpatrick he will give you all the necessary information.

What Industry Has Invested Over $28 MILLION in Mississippi?

Investment in buildings, fixtures, trucks and equipment by Mississippi's 57 wholesalers and over 5,000 retailers means the beer industry has invested a total of $28,966,000 in Mississippi. This is a sizeable industry for any area and gives employment to over 16,000 Mississippians.

The Beer Industry also pays over $4 million a year in direct taxes to the State. This tax load is one of the highest in the nation, but largely through public acceptance of legally regulated beer as the beverage of moderation—beer is now the 4th largest taxpayer in Mississippi.

Better milk and eggs are a result of brewing. Grains enriched in the brewing process are widely used as a protein supplement for dairy feeds. Brewer's yeast added to feed yields more and better eggs and poultry.

American Legion Oratorical Contest

To Begin Soon

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 6—Francis Bowling, Jackson, Chairman of The American Legion's annual Oratorical Contest for the Department of Mississippi, has announced the following closing dates for the 1956 contest:

Post contests to be completed by March 3.

District contests to be completed by March 10.

Department Vice-Commanders contests to be completed by March 17.

State finals to be held in Jackson on Wednesday, March 21, 1956, at 10:00 a. m.

"This limitation on time is essential," Bowling said, "in order to permit the Department to certify the state winners to National for the Regional Contest on or before March 22."

"This program of The American Legion is a part of its general Americanism program and is designed to encourage high school students to familiarize themselves with the Constitution of the United States," Bowling stated. "The contestants are judged on a prepared oration of 10 to 12 minutes on some phase of the Constitution and an extemporaneous discussion of 4 to 6 minutes on one of the more important provisions of the Constitution. The specific subject of the extemporaneous discussion is not made known to the contestant until six months prior to the time for delivery thus requiring the contestant to have a good general knowledge of the subject," he continued.

At the post level, the post may offer whatever it sees fit as recognition of the winner or winners. In the District, the winner is awarded a medal by the Department. In the Department Vice-Commanders' areas, are awarded medals and all contestants in the State finals receive medals. In addition, State winners receive U. S. Savings Bonds in the amount of $100 first, $75 for second place, and $50 for third place.

From the State finals the winner advances to Regional and Sectional contests and finally to National Finals under the direction of the National organizations.

Sterling silver medals are given each regional contestant and 10K gold medals to each Sectional and National Finalist. Scholarships are awarded to the National winners—$4,000 first place, $2,500 second, $1,000 third, and $500 fourth place.

Winners of the state finals in Mississippi will compete with the winners from Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas in the Regional contest and the Regional winner will be in competition with the winners from two other Southern Regional areas.
